Dear ZM Friends:

We are thrilled at the fantastic beginning for our Legacy Clubs. Most of our schools completed their recruitment phase of signing up students. Leaders began meeting and planning their first outreach to the school. This usually comes with the beginning of club day during school hours where students can sign up for a number of clubs. These meetings take 40-55 minutes and much can be accomplished. The meetings are comprised of prayer, announcements, worship music, testimonies, skits and a main message.

The first Legacy Club meeting at Gaither HS saw nearly 350 attend! The meeting was exciting with the Masters Commission leading the students with skits and testimonies. Many came forward to receive Jesus Christ as Savior

The meetings end with prayer and a challenge to the students to take what they have seen and heard and apply it to their lives. Good news travels fast, and the excitement that these meetings increase our numbers dramatically! Praise the Lord and keep praying for increase.

Sam Glenn-"The Authority on Attitude" shares his stories at the first ever Legacy Club meeting at Steinbrenner HS. Over 160 attended. Students opened their meeting with worship music and outlined the program that will be featured this year on club day. Check out Sam's website: www.samglenn.com

Wharton HS opened their first meeting with youth speaker and vocal artist Christina Sanders. Over 270 attended and enjoyed the message and entertainment.

One of the blessings of working with students and sponsors is the many meetings that occur during the month allowing us to encourage others, work hard, and stay focused. Our new club at Freedom has humbled us to trust God in starting up the ministry for these students.

Freedom HS student leaders promo Legacy Club at their Homecoming Football game. They carried signs like "Will your Legacy last longer than a VW Beetle?"

Student leaders at Gaither HS prepare for their first meeting with prayer, a focal point of all that they do. We encourage our clubs to collect prayer requests from their fellow students, and lift them up during their Leadership Meetings.

Student leaders and local youth pastors kick off the first Wiregrass Ranch HS Legacy meeting. Over 280 attended with students leading all aspects of their Club.
